

Sometimes life rolls along so fast, one forgets the basics. There is a lot of wisdom in what follows, so I repeat this by popular request:

1. Never give yourself a haircut after 3 margaritas.
2. You need only two tools: WD-40 and duct tape. If it doesn't move and it should, use WD-40. If it moves and shouldn't, use duct tape.
3. The five most essential words for a healthy, vital relationship are: "I apologize" and "you are right."
4. People seem normal until you get to know them.
5. Never pass up an opportunity to pee.
6. If he/she says that you are too good for him/her - believe them.
7. Learn to pick your battles; ask yourself: "Will this matter one year from now? How about one month? One week? One day?"
8. When you make a mistake, make amends immediately. (It's easier to eat crow while it's still warm.)
9. If you woke up breathing, congratulations! You have another chance!
10. Living well really is the best revenge. (Being miserable because of a bad relationship just might mean that the other person was right about you!)
11. Work is good, but it's not that important. Money is nice, BUT... you can't take it with you. Statistics show most people don't live to spend all they saved; some die even before they retire. Anything we have isn't really ours; it's on loan to us while we're here ...even our kids.
12. And finally: Be really good to your family and friends. You never know when you are going to need them to empty your bedpan!

As you have heard me say, 'Life is like a roll of toilet paper, the closer to the end, the faster it goes!'

Let those who have ears, listen!—fr.t.
